

Abstract of the Disclosure

A computer-assisted method for typing customers/prospects is disclosed. The disclosed method includes refining a survey via bestfit clustering, , which is described in detail herein. The disclosed method also includes refining survey results via 5 composition analysis, and identifying clusters of customers/prospects from the survey results via champion/challenger cluster refinement and panel analysis.

11947-7